innovations for overhead doors

The complete door that takes pressure off your production.

As a door manufacturer, you want to grow but your production capacity doesn't always grow with you. InForce is your flexible solution: a complete, reliable door that supports your production when it matters most. It's also a valuable addition when you need more flexibility in your planning or delivery reliability.

Why InForce?

Your extra production line... without expanding your facility

InForce fills the capacity gaps you face. Whether due to peak demand, limited space, or staff shortages. You keep selling — we deliver the complete door.

100% industrial quality, without production risks

No scrap. No downtime. No material shortages. A complete door manufactured to high industrial standards.

Available directly from Europe

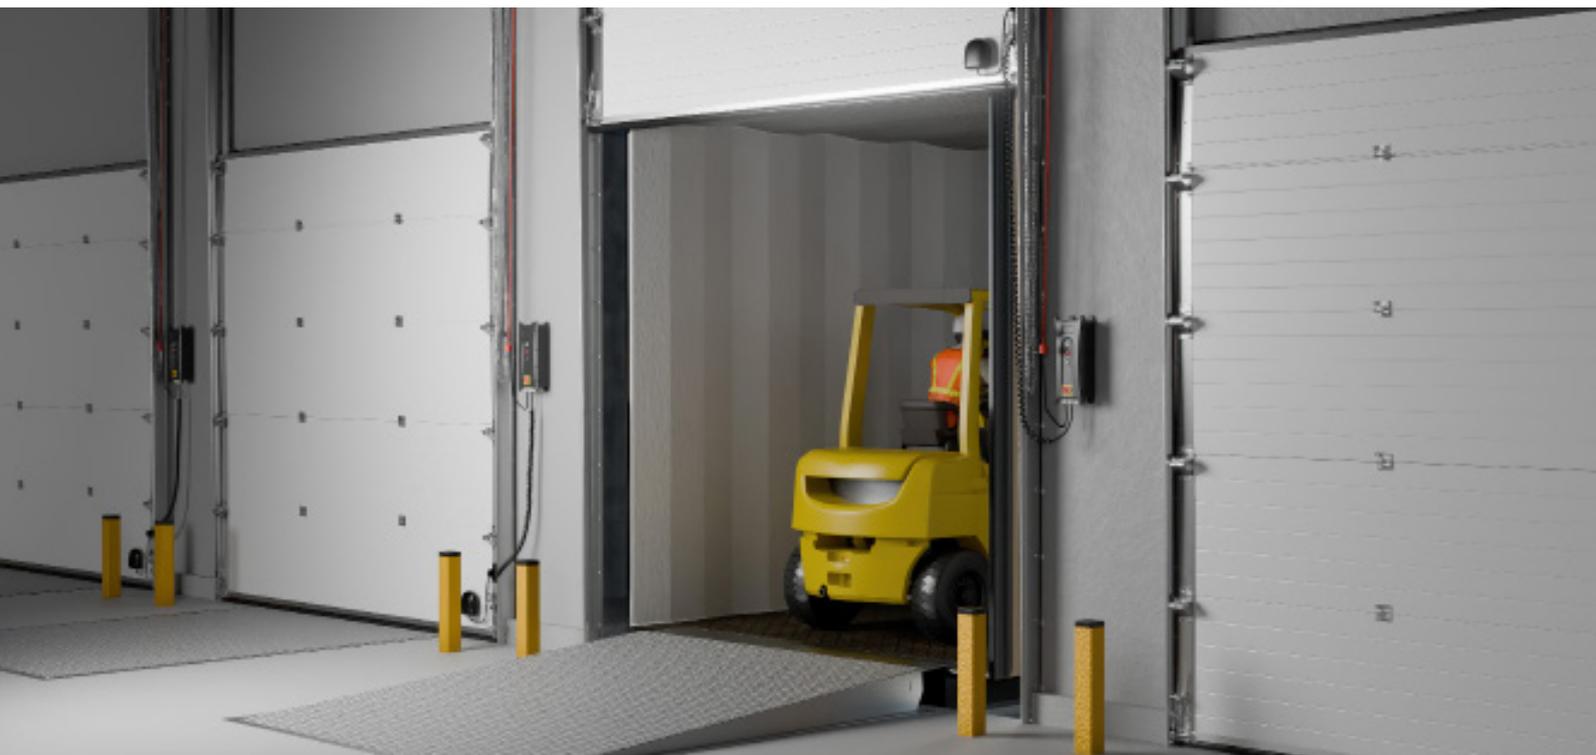

No long lead times — fast delivery means fast installation and satisfied customers.

You decide how much you outsource

From occasional orders to ongoing production support: InForce scales with your demand.

Supplied without branding

The InForce ISC-40P is produced entirely without branding, allowing you to market the door under your own brand.

What makes the InForce ISC-40P unique?

NEW! Brushless drive system

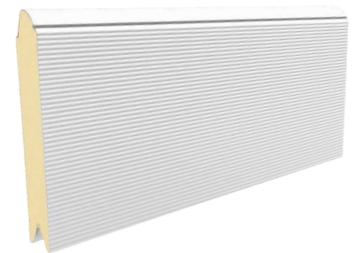

Flexible operation suitable for any application. Semi or fully automatic — you choose what works best for your customer.

The Servox drive system is engineered for quiet, smooth movement and daily use.

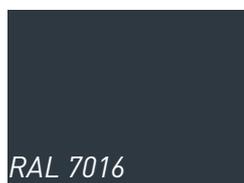

Insulated panels for professional energy efficiency

The 40mm steel panels are designed with thermal insulation, preventing heat loss. Efficient to produce and ideal for energy-efficient industrial buildings. The door leaf features a finger-safe design, ensuring safe closing and reducing the risk of entrapment.

Modern look in any RAL colour

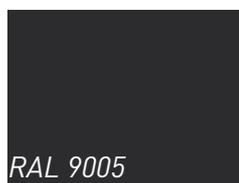

InForce is available in several popular standard colours. Want it to match a façade, corporate identity, or project design? The door can be fully factory-coated in almost any RAL colour.

RAL 7016

RAL 9002

RAL 9005

RAL 9006

RAL 9007

Let light in with stylish window options

Round or rectangular windows? One or several?

The window options are designed for maximum natural light and a modern appearance — perfect for workspaces where visibility and safety matter.

Built to last

Tested for intensive daily industrial use. Thanks to its strong resistance to wind, water, and temperature fluctuations, the door performs reliably year after year.
